activity guide for educators

Vocabulary Building

Providing a simple explanation for words that children may not be familiar with can help build their language skills. You can describe the meaning of a word, point to an illustration, or use tone of voice to convey the word’s meaning. Here are some words to talk about while you read Evelyn Del Rey Is Moving Away:

- Bundle: to dress warmly
- Gobble: to swallow or eat in a hurry
- Sneak: to move quietly and secretly
- Grouchy: when someone complains about things
- Vanished: disappeared or gone away
- Blur: something that you cannot see clearly
- Promise: saying for certain you will do something or something will happen

Write a Letter

Evelyn Del Rey Is Moving Away is about the beauty of friendship. At the end of the story, we see a more grown-up Daniela reading letters she received from Evelyn over the years. Talk to children about writing letters to friends and family members, specifically those they may miss. Ask them what they might want to tell someone in a letter. Let the children write a letter or help them write and decorate a letter to someone special. Then show them how to mail it.

Remote Learning: Ask children to write letters and send them to one another, you, or someone else. They could even mail them to the school. Emphasize how letter writing is one more way to connect when you cannot be with one another.
Play a Game

We see Evelyn and Daniela playing a lot of games in the book. One thing we notice is that they are moving quite a bit. We see them spin in a circle, wobble to the ground, and sneak past Mr. Miller. Play a game of Simon Says using actions from the book (e.g., climb, spin, sneak, bounce, wobble, gobble). Let children take turns being Simon and coming up with their own actions.

Remote Learning: This game can easily be done during a virtual class meeting with the entire class.

Mood Meter

Throughout the story we see the two friends sharing happy, joyful moments as they play and showing sadness as they part. Use the template to make a mood meter with children to show how our emotions can change. Help the children color the faces, the background, and the connecting box in the left column to match the emotion being portrayed. For example, children can color the sad face and its corresponding box blue or use red for angry. Encourage them to use whatever color they connect to that emotion.

Once the faces and the boxes have been colored in, ask the children how they are feeling. Have them use a clothespin or just point to the box on the meter that shows their mood. This meter can be used over and over to help children share their feelings and emotions.

Remote Learning: Have children make their own meters at home. During virtual class meetings have children share their meter. It can be an easy way to check in on children at home during future virtual class activities.

Packing Up

It’s moving day in Evelyn Del Rey Is Moving Away! Add boxes, clipboards, packing lists, and moving truck signs to Dramatic Play. Support children in playing the roles of families packing to move and the movers helping the families move homes. Support language development by asking children why they are packing the items they are. How will they use them in the new home? Are they special to them?

Remote Learning: During a virtual class meeting, have children bring something special they would pack up in a move. Let them share with one another.
More Ideas
Keep the celebration going! Here are a few additional ideas for your classroom:

• Make paper-bag puppets of the two key characters. How are they similar? How are they different?
• Make friendship bracelets out of beads and pipe cleaners. Let children share with one another.
• Using paper plates and art materials, have children make a face to show what emotions they are experiencing. This is especially fun to do with play dough.
• Divide a play space in half using tape on the floor. Let children decorate each space how they choose. Facilitate a conversation about what is the same and what is unique.
• Draw pictures and tell stories about special friendships or things children like to do with their friends.

Remote Learning: Create family resource kits with some of the materials mentioned above.

Read On
Keep exploring the themes of Evelyn Del Rey Is Moving Away by reading more books! Some ideas are:

For more themes of friendship, try Farfallina & Marcel by Holly Keller, Matthew and Tilly by Rebecca C. Jones and illustrated by Beth Peck, Lubna and Pebble by Wendy Meddour and illustrated by Daniel Egnéus, The Day You Begin by Jacqueline Woodson and illustrated by Rafael López, and Melia and Jo by Billy Aronson and Jennifer Oxley.

Dig into concepts of moving away or change by reading A New Home by Tania de Regil, Juna’s Jar by Jane Bahk and illustrated by Felicia Hoshino, Goodbye, Friend! Hello, Friend! by Cori Doerrfeld, Max and the Tag-Along Moon by Floyd Cooper, Goodbye Summer, Hello Autumn by Kenard Pak, and Lissy’s Friends by Grace Lin.

Deepen conversations around letter writing by reading Dear Juno by Soyung Pak and illustrated by Susan Kathleen Hartung or A Letter to Amy by Ezra Jack Keats.

Explore more great books by author Meg Medina. Try Mango, Abuela, and Me or Tía Isa Wants a Car.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>MOOD METER</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Excited</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Happy</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Silly</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hopeful</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sad</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Angry</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Illustrations © 2020 by Sonia Sánchez